

Principal/Senior Geochemist

- Singapore based opportunity
- Greenfields exploration
- Global role

BHP Billiton is a true global leader operating a wide variety of mining and processing operations. Spanning 25 countries and employing approximately 38,000 people worldwide, their success is unparalleled.

With an enviable portfolio of growth opportunities, a pivotal role has arisen within their Minerals Exploration Group (MinEx). The MinEx head office, based in Singapore, is responsible for greenfields exploration across the globe, securing growth for the company's future with exploration professionals located across Singapore, Australia, South Africa and Chile; a unique opportunity has arisen within the team for a Principal Geochemist.

Reporting to the Geoscience Manager also based in Singapore, this hands-on role will interact with members of the Geoscience team both at the head office and within the regional centres.

You will be responsible for a diverse range of activities including:

- Project generation including project design, selection methodology, data processing and integration and quality control.
- Working closely with virtual global teams and leading consultancies exploring a variety of commodities.
- Maintaining geochemistry industry contacts and keeping abreast of latest technologies.
- Drawing upon your vast experience to train and mentor company field geologists and contractors.

To apply for this unique position we are looking for an individual who has:

- 15+ years geosciences exploration experience with tertiary qualifications at PhD level in the field of Geochemistry.
- Exposure to a variety of terrains and demonstrated capability in geochemical quality, safety, assurance and control.
- Experience in the design and execution of a wide range of geochemical surveys for exploration objectives with a wide range of sampling media and the capability to manipulate software to analyse geochemical data.
- Ability to travel – up to 35% of the time.
