The Service Award honors members who have advanced the goals of the Society to promote research and education in meteoritics and planetary science in ways other than by conducting scientific research. The Meteoritical Society presents the 2023 Service Award to Hasnaa Chennaoui Aoudjehane for her initiatives in support and promotion of meteoritics and planetary science in African and Arabic countries; for her untiring mentoring of students; and for her service to the Meteoritical Society, scientific community, and public outreach efforts. Full citation: <https://doi.org/10.1111/maps.14029>

The Jessberger Award is given for outstanding research in the field of isotope cosmochemistry by a female scientist in the middle of her career who has received her doctorate at least 10 years and not more than 20 years before. The Meteoritical Society presents the 2023 Elmar K. Jessberger Award to Jamie E. Elsil for her influential role and strong leadership in isotope cosmochemistry; and for determining compoundstable isotopes of organic compounds in meteorites and lunar rocks. Full citation: <https://doi.org/10.1111/maps.14039>
